

Although volunteering in Girl Scouting probably means something different to each person, there is undeniably a common ground—the desire to help girls become courageous, confident individuals with character! Match your expertise, skills, interests, and life experience to the needs of our overseas committee and volunteer. You will get the support, instruction, and guidance necessary to fulfill your role successfully as a Girl Scout volunteer and help guide girls through their Girl Scout journey. Your service will be recognized and greatly appreciated not only by USAGSO-PARIS, but particularly by all the girls who you will help to grow strong!

Chaperone

Accompany girls on an event that lasts a few hours. Interested in dinosaurs? You could assist on a fun, informational trip to a natural history museum or if you work in an office all day, how about an opportunity that gets you outside – on a hike or a campout?

Mentor

Do you have specific experience that could help girls make good value-based decisions? Perhaps you might act as a discussion facilitator in a small group setting on health issues or peer pressure, for example.

Preteen and teen Girl Scouts organize their activities around their interests. Could you accompany girls to a restaurant so they could improve their spoken command of one of the foreign languages they study? Advise them on skin care? Introduce them to an exercise program? Give them tips on writing letters of motivation and/or helping them to prepare for college or internship interviews?

Troop Volunteer

Work directly with girls, as a Girl Scout troop volunteer you get the opportunity to awaken in girls their personal leadership abilities and the promise to develop to their full potential.

Program Level Consultant

Level Consultants (Daisy, Brownie, Junior, Cadette, Senior and Ambassador) have experience with the Girl Scout program. They are a source of information on how troop government, girl planning, and Girl Scout activities fit together, as well as ideas unique to our Paris location.

They are also in charge of managing all requests and placements of girls in troops or groups for their levels.

Adult Learning Facilitator

Get involved with the Adult Training program, the benefits of training for adults themselves are personally rewarding: opportunities to develop their leadership, organizational skills and talents; enriched interactions with girls; sharing of new program activities and best practices for implementation; forming good relationships with other adults for support; new ideas; and simply having more fun.

Join a Committee

Events

Fundraising

Media

Public Relations

Special Projects

Website design and management

Neighborhood Management Team

Every organization needs an executive board, keep your professional skills sharp or learn new ones. For information on contributing your expertise to Girl Scouts please contact our Overseas

Chair.

“...and Girl Scouting is not just knowing, but doing and not just doing, but being.” Juliette Low